

Faulty Goods

Injury can sometimes be caused by defective products. If you sustain injury, you have the protection of the Consumer Protection Act and whether you hire or buy goods, they have to be safe. You do not have to prove the person whom you bought or hired the product from was at fault, only that the product was faulty and this caused you injury.

For further assistance with this please contact Debra Higgins on 01623 655111 or email dhiggins@marchants.co.uk

